

HOBOLINK

LI-COR Cloud™ IoT Platform

Remote monitoring software solution (formerly HOBOLink)

Make informed, sustainable decisions using intuitive data management, visualization, and API integration tools.

Important Information

Cloud service plans are selected when purchasing an RX station, and are also available for most MX Bluetooth data loggers by purchasing an MX Data Plan.

Already have a HOBOLink account?

GO TO HOBOLINK PLATFORM NOW

Features

One Stop Shop View and monitor all of your MX & RX devices on one platform Always Informed Stay updated with customizable real-time email/text alerts Visualize Gain insight into your data with Google Maps, built-in templates & customizable dashboards Analyze & Act Seamlessly connect to industry-leading analytics and management software with enhanced integration/API functionality One-stop shop lets you view and monitor all HOBO IoT devices on a single platform Effortless management of RX cellular monitoring stations, MX loggers, and MX Gateways Remote configuration for RX stations Dashboard engine empowers users to create unlimited dashboards, easily visualize data with built-in templates, and view up to a year's worth of data to track seasonal changes Support for multiple users and multiple organizations allows scalable and secure enterprise installations Geographically visualize data using Google Maps feature Self-service API offers powerful access to seamlessly integrate HOBOLink data into larger data ecosystems Secure and reliable data storage for up to a year's worth of data Customizable exports allow you to extract your data anyway you want it Supports integration with 3rd-party platforms like NEWA Alerts and alarms provide near real-time monitoring and easier access to current alarm conditions

System Requirements

- Google Chrome (current release)
- Firefox (current release)
- Safari 11+
- Current Version: V24.16

OneTemp^o
measure | control | record
1300 768 887
www.onetemp.com.au